Introduction

Oscar Wilde described Connemara and Mayo as ‘a savage beauty’ and even today the region retains its unspoilt wildness. On this seven day hiking trip we’ll summit three of the highest mountains in west of Ireland including the highest peak in west Ireland, Mweelrea and we’ll tackle Ireland’s most famous pilgrimage mountain, Croagh Patrick, in the remotest hills of Connemara. This really is the edge of the western world with stunning views across the Atlantic and the freshest breezes in Europe. Away from the touristy spots, you can immerse yourself in Ireland’s folklore, geology, archaeology and natural history as you experience the wildernesses of western Ireland.

Is this holiday for you?

This holiday is suitable for fit and experienced hikers. We hike at a good pace and you can expect to be out for 6-8 hours a day. You will not always be on a path and the terrain underfoot can be rough and boggy, including boulder fields and mountain tops. Some of the daily hikes will involve a mountain ascent of over 3000ft/900m high. Daily distances will be typically up to 16km but may be longer occasionally. Daily hike details are available in the itinerary. The weather in Ireland can be unpredictable and at times can make activities more challenging.

DAY 1

Meet the group at Galway Train Station. Walk to the summit of Connemara's most iconic hilltop, Diamond Hill.

Leaving the busy city of Galway behind, we head west into rural Connemara. Climbing to the summit of Diamond Hill, arguably the finest of all hilltops in the Connemara area, is a great way to start your weeks explorations of this wild coastline. From the summit, there are views out into the Atlantic and in to the brooding hills and mountains beyond. Below the inland skyline, you may be able to pick out the gothic style turrets and towers of Kylemore Abbey, or look out to sea for huge views of the wild Atlantic Ocean. This evening we'll share dinner together in a local pub, rounding the day off perhaps with a perfect pint and if we're lucky, the traditional music of an Irish folk band.

DAY 2

Walk through Connemara National Park and amongst the Twelve Bens mountain range.

Today, we'll take the path less travelled through Connemara National Park and hike amongst the Twelve Bens mountain range - sharp, quartzite peaks that are an ever present feature of hiking in Connemara. These beautiful mountains offer some of Western Ireland's wildest (and boggiest!) landscapes, with sweeping views over Kylemore Abbey, Connemara and the shimmering Atlantic.

DAY 3

Walk up Leenane Hill, with 360 degree views over the rugged MaamTurks Mountains and out across the fjord to the Atlantic Ocean.

Today, we're in for a treat! Following a small trail up Leenane Hill, we explore a little-known part of Mayo that few other hikers get to experience. On the way up, beautiful views of Killary Fjord spill out on one side, while the wild bogs of Mayo extend out on the other. A fast-disappearing terrain, learn a little about the importance of Irish bogs from an ecological as well as historical perspective. From the top of Leenane Hill, enjoy 360 degree views over the beautiful and rugged MaamTurks Mountains, Mweelrea Mountain, and out across the fjord to the Atlantic Ocean.

DAY 4

Spectacular coastal walk along Killary Fjord.

Certainly one of Ireland's most spectacular coastal hikes, this gentle walk along Killary Fjord takes us past rocky outcroppings of sheep-shorn grass with the distant Atlantic spreading out before us. Overlooking a necklace of powdery white beaches along the Atlantic shoreline, sharp eyes can spot pods of dolphins on the surface of a seascape dotted with islands. Delve into Irish history as we pass a famine-era abandoned village while your guide explains the rich ancient histories of this little-changing landscape.

DAY 5

Mweelrea Mountain, Connacht's Highest Peak

Mweelrea, the highest mountain in the west of Ireland, is a great place to hike with breathtaking panoramic views. The south falls steeply to the waters of Killary Harbour, Ireland's largest fjord. To the east stretches the sprawling Sheffry Hills and Ben Gorm mountain, and to the west lies sandy, white Atlantic shores. In the evening, enjoy some Irish traditional music in the pubs of the colourful coastal village of Westport.

DAY 6Walk up the Holy Mountain of Croagh Patrick. Free time in the afternoon in Westport town.

The pilgrimage up the rocky sides of Croagh Patrick is a 5,000-year-old tradition where barefoot pilgrims gather to summit Croagh Patrick at the end of each July. Our hike takes us on a less-travelled route, following the ridge to the tiny church clinging to the summit. From here, we'll drink in the spectacular vista of Clew Bay and its 365 drumlin islands one for each day of the year! Ask your guide about the 16th century pirate queen, Grace O'Malley, who once reigned these waters. After the hike, head into Westport town to enjoy Westport's lovely cafes, pubs and shops.

DAY 7Free time in Westport town and transfer to Westport train station.

This morning, it's time to say goodbye to the Wild Atlantic Way, but before you do so, you'll have the chance to tuck into a final hearty breakfast and enjoy the bustling market town of Westport. Crowned by the iconic peak of Croagh Patrick that we conquered earlier this week, you'll have time for a bit of last-minute souvenir shopping, a walk around the colourful streets or have a peek at Westport's many historical sites before we part ways at Westport Train Station.
