On this fantastic self-guided holiday, you will explore some of the best highlights from Chiang Mai to Bangkok by foot and by bike, a great way to really delve into the heart of the destination.

Beginning in the north, you will be captivated by dreamy landscapes of emerald mountains and cascading waterfalls; and enjoy your first taste of Thai and Buddhist culture. Travelling south by rail, Ayutthaya and its UNESCO World Heritage listed archaeological ruins awaits, inviting you to explore on two wheels to discover its incredible history. Arriving to the capital city of Bangkok, you will experience the wonderful contrasts of this buzzing metropolis, which offers so much more than you might initially expect. Finally, unwind in Kanchanaburi, surrounded by beautiful nature and poignant history. Thailand really has something for everyone.

Travelling independently with the guidance of a self-guided travel app, you decide on the pace of your explorations on your holiday in Thailand. With a carefully balanced itinerary combining guided experiences with self-guided discovery, you will benefit from valuable cultural insights with your local guide, and also have the flexibility to take your time and delve into the sights and history of the places visited with the freedom of your self-guided app.

Is this holiday for you?

This holiday is perfect for you if you enjoy the freedom of travelling independently from a group, while having the ease of holiday logistics and arrangements taken care of for you. With your self-guided travel app, you will have a local guide in your pocket to help you along your way as you explore the sights, tastes and culture of Thailand at your own pace.

The sightseeing walks and bike rides included in this itinerary are short and of a leisurely, exploratory nature. The cycling is on predominantly flat and paved terrain; on a mix of small city roads, quiet secondary roads and cycling lanes.

There is an optional walk available in Doi Suthep-Pui National Park between November and February - this is a challenging full day self-guided hike covering around 16km, with over 600m ascent and 900m descent. This optional self-guided walk is suitable for fit and experienced hikers that are confident in terrain that can be steep and occasionally technical.

In the cities, you will stay in well-appointed 3* hotels with pools, where you can be sure of a warm welcome and a comfortable base from which to set off on your daily explorations.

This holiday involves an overnight journey on the sleeper train; facilities on the train are basic but comfortable. Travelling on the train offers a fantastic opportunity to interact with local travellers and experience the culture of Thailand.

You will also spend two nights in a floating raft hotel in Kanchanaburi; the accommodation is simple, with no electricity, wi-fi or heated water. Staying off-grid, surrounded by the sounds of the forest and the river, you can relax and unwind, and reconnect with nature.

DAY 1

Arrive in Chiang Mai and settle in to your hotel.

Your self-guided holiday begins on arrival to Chiang Mai Airport, where your driver will meet you and transfer you to your hotel. In the afternoon, you will have a briefing with your self-guided assistant to welcome you to Thailand, familiarise you with your self-guided travel app, and answer any questions you may have about your holiday. The rest of your day is at your leisure; to help you get oriented your app contains suggestions for places to visit and some restaurant recommendations.

Immerse yourself into fragrant Thai flavours with a morning cooking class.

This morning you will have an unforgettable introduction to the fantastically flavoursome cuisine of Thailand. Your cooking experience begins with a visit to the local market where under the guidance of your instructor, you will learn about the deliciously fresh ingredients and the fragrant herbs and spices that will make up your culinary creations today. Stocked up with your choice of supplies, you will head into the kitchen and discover the magical alchemy of cooking up your own dishes with step by step demonstrations and guidance. And of course, the best bit of the experience is tasting your very own home-cooked creations - that's lunch sorted!

In the afternoon, you can embark on a leisurely self-guided walking tour of the old city, guided by your travel app. The tour commences from the famous Tha Phae Gate, and takes you on the route less travelled to explore small alleys, lesser-known temples, and the bustling markets of Chiang Mai's ancient trade district, learning of the city's history along the way.

Well-acquainted with the city after your full day of discovery, you can take your pick of local eateries for your evening meal, perhaps with a refreshing local brew of Singha or Chang beer.

DAY 3Early morning Buddhist Tak Bat experience. Explore the hill top temple of Doi Suthep.

This morning you have the opportunity to partake in the Buddhist alms-giving ceremony, Tak Bat. Your guide will meet you at your hotel early in the morning and accompany you through this spiritual experience, sharing insights into the rite that takes place each morning. In this traditional practice, saffron-robed monks set off from the temple and walk the streets to meet the faithful, who gift to the monks alms (usually offerings of food) in return for a blessing. Performed for hundreds of years, this religious ceremony is a form of spiritual redemption and illustrates the symbiotic relationship between the monks and the Buddhist community.

Returning to your hotel after the ceremony, tuck in to your own breakfast before taking a taxi or tuk tuk to the stunning temple complex of Wat Phra That Doi Suthep. Perched atop the emerald summit of Doi Suthep, this majestic temple dates back to 1383 and is one of the most sacred in the north of Thailand. A staircase flanked by beautiful balustrades of naga serpents lead you up the 306 steps to reach the temple grounds. Utilising your travel app, explore the area and learn about the importance of this religious site for the community of Chiang Mai.

From November to February, an optional walking trail is available in the Doi Suthep-Pui National Park, offering a full day self-guided hike for active travellers who are looking for (and are prepared for) a challenging walk. Undulating through the rainforest, the trail can sometimes be muddy and slippery with tree roots and vegetation on the track, and the going can be steep and tough in some places. This hike requires care and surefootedness, and is not suitable in the rainy season.

The hiking trail begins from the Doi Pui Hmong village, and ascends the verdant flanks of Doi Pui (1685m) to reach a pleasant viewpoint near the summit. From the high point of the trail, the going is mostly downhill, taking you through another Hmong hill village where you can stop for a rest and a coffee, before continuing on to reach Wat Phra That Doi Suthep. Take some time here to explore the temple complex and drink in the breath taking views over Chiang Mai - a well-earned reward for your trekking efforts.

16km / 683m ascent / 939m descent / 6 hours

If you would like to undertake this optional hike during the available season, we can arrange return transfers at a supplementary cost (hotel pick up at 08:00), please contact our sales team to request this at the time of booking your holiday. As this hike is led by the self-guided travel app, we highly recommend that your phone is fully charged and that you bring a power bank as back up.

DAY 4

A full day guided exploration of Doi Inthanon National Park: nature, waterfalls and hill tribes.

Reaching an altitude of 2565m, the national park of Doi Inthanon is famed for its cool climate, lush vegetation, misty mountains, numerous waterfalls, and indigenous hill tribes.

Your guide will pick you up from your hotel in the morning. You can sit back and watch the changing scenery as the road carries you from the city lowlands to the lush green mountains, often shrouded in steamy mist. You will spend a full day here with a private guide to experience another side of Thailand. You will get to hike through the forest with your Karen hill tribe guide, discover cascading waterfalls, learn about Karen culture, customs and traditions, and get a glimpse of life in the mountains. You will also be able to sample coffee produced locally, reach the highest point of Thailand - Doi Inthanon - and admire the manicured gardens and twin chedis (pagodas or stupas) of Phra Mahathat Naphamethanidon and Phra Mahathat Naphapholphumisiri, built by the Royal Thai Air Force to commemorate the birthdays of the Thai king and queen.

At the end of the day, feeling rejuvenated after all that fresh mountain air and memorable cultural interaction, you will be transferred back to your hotel to have a final evening in Chiang Mai at your leisure.

Explore Chiang Mai and get off the beaten track on a self-guided cycling adventure before taking the sleeper train to Ayutthaya.

This morning, you can hire a bike locally to explore Chiang Mai on a self-guided cycling adventure. Travelling on two wheels with the guidance of your travel app, you will be able to cover larger distances and get off the beaten track in this atmospheric city. DAY 6

Arrive to Ayutthaya and immerse yourself into the UNESCO-listed historic city on a self-guided cycle tour.

Arriving early in the morning to Ayutthaya train station, hail a taxi or a tuk tuk (readily available at the station) to take you and your luggage the short distance to your hotel. Early check-in is included on this day, allowing you to access your hotel room on arrival. Having had some extra shut-eye, you can tuck in to breakfast at the hotel before hiring your bike and heading out on your self-guided cycle tour of Ayutthaya today.

Formerly the capital of the Siamese kingdom, Ayutthaya was once a major trading port, strategically located on an island surrounded by the three rivers of Lopburi, Pasak and Chao Phraya. In its heyday, this wealthy city boasted of hundreds of majestic golden temples. With the fall of Ayutthaya in the 18th century, the once-glittering wats were ravaged by the Burmese army and left to be reclaimed by the jungle. Nowadays, the remnants of the grand palaces and temples have undergone careful restoration and the archaeological ruins, surrounded by open green spaces, make up the UNESCO World Heritage Site of Ayutthaya Historical Park.

Cycling along small paths and quiet streets, you will pedal through the area's most famous sights as well as the lesser-known highlights. Your self-guided cycle tour will also delve you into history along the banks of the Chao Phraya river, taking you to the areas where the first settlers established their communities in Ayutthaya. With the flexibility to decide your own pace today, you can explore and admire the impressive ruins to your heart's content, before returning to your hotel and choosing where to take your evening meal tonight. We suggest taking a walk around the night markets at Hua Raw or Bang Lan, and letting your senses guide you through the smorgasbord of street food on offer!

Thailand's dynamic capital city is a dizzying blend of spirituality, history and modernity; a fascinating juxtaposition of ancient temples and majestic gleaming palaces with modern high-rise buildings of concrete and glass.

On arrival to Bangkok train station, your driver will meet you and transfer you to your hotel, ideally located for you to discover the city. The rest of your day is at your leisure, free for you to explore as you please. Unmissable sights include the Grand Palace, the National Museum, Wat Phra Kaew (the Temple of the Emerald Buddha), Wat Pho, and the backpacker hub of Khao San Road. One of Bangkok's most vibrant neighbourhoods, Chinatown has a wealth of markets, temples, traditional shop houses and fascinating colonial architecture. This morning, make your way to the MRT station at Wat Mangkon in the heart of Chinatown, where your self-guided walking tour will commence. Following the guidance in your travel app, you will meander through the maze of atmospheric alleys in this captivating district, gaining insight into its history along the way. Highlights to discover include the largest Golden Buddha in the world (over 3m tall and weighing more than five tonnes!); noteworthy landmarks such as the Chinese gate at Odeon Circle; and the famous "Street of Gold", home to over a hundred gold and jewellery shops painted gold and bright red for good luck, with their glittering wares on proud display. Your tour will also take you to lesser-known but equally interesting places, immersing you into the heart and soul of the district. Furthermore, your app contains recommendations for restaurants and cafes to help you to sample some of the flavours available here, with its vibrant melting pot of Thai, Chinese and Indian cultures.

DAY 9

Self-guided cycle exploration of Bang Krachao, a green oasis in the heart of the city.

Today you will have the opportunity to experience a tranquil green oasis right in the midst of the hustle and bustle of the city. The man-made island of Bang Krachao, set in a sharp bend on the Chao Phraya

River, is an idyllic haven teeming with mangrove forests and lush jungle vegetation. It is nicknamed the "Green Lung" of Bangkok as the abundance of trees help to clean up the city air. A gentle self-guided cycle tour in this verdant paradise will reconnect you with nature and rejuvenate the soul.

In the morning, make your way to the Klong Toei MRT station and take a short tuk tuk ride to the pier at Wat Klong Toei Nok (or take a taxi/tuk tuk directly from your hotel). Crossing the river, your app will direct you to bike hire shops from where you can rent your bicycle for your self-guided tour today.

Guided by your travel app, you will explore the island's canals and elevated pathways, cycle through rustic homesteads and small villages, and visit the peaceful botanical garden of Sri Nakhon Khuean Khan Park. You will find temples dotted over the island, inviting you for a rest in their tranquil and leafy grounds. In this serene setting, you have to remind yourself that you have not left the capital city!

If your visit to Bang Krachao coincides with the weekend, the floating market of Bang Nam Pheung is not to be missed - here you can find a wide range of food, local produce and handicraft stalls. The market opens from the morning to the mid-afternoon on Saturdays and Sundays, and would make for an ideal lunch stop.

Concluding your cycle tour, return your bike to the hire shop and make your way back to your hotel to freshen up and perhaps cool off in the pool, before choosing where to take your dinner tonight, you really are spoilt for choice while in Bangkok.

Transfer to Kanchanaburi to your floating raft accommodation on the River Kwai.

Check out of your hotel after breakfast. This morning, a driver will collect you from the hotel for the transfer to Kanchanaburi province (approx. 3 hours), where the two rivers of Kwai Noi and Kwai Yai meet to form the Mae Klong River. The region of Kanchanaburi is rich with cultural, natural and historical attractions, set amidst rugged limestone peaks and sinewy rivers. You will stay for the next two nights in a floating jungle raft house set in the gentle flow of the Kwai Noi River, a great opportunity to unwind with an off-grid experience. For the next two days, you are free to arrange your own activities or excursions (these can be arranged through the hotel staff on arrival), or simply relax and enjoy the tranquillity of your natural surroundings.

In the evening, you can tuck into dinner by lamplight at your accommodation accompanied by the ambience of the river and the jungle, and enjoy a cultural show of traditional Mon dances.

DAY 11

Free day in Kanchanaburi.

Made famous by Pierre Boulle's book 'The Bridge Over the River Kwai' and the subsequent 1957 movie of the same name, you have the opportunity to learn of the history of World War II in Kanchanaburi. There are a number of memorials and museums here, sensitively commemorating and educating visitors on the history of the so-called Death Railway. The construction of the infamous Burma Railway claimed the lives of around 15,000 Allied prisoners of war, and tens of thousands of conscripted labourers, who endured brutal conditions and treatment by their captors.

Not far from your floating hotel, Hellfire Pass is a highly recommended visit. Constructed by POWs who only had primitive tools with which to carve the deep cuttings through solid rock faces, labouring 16-18 hours a day, the name Hellfire Pass comes from the light and shadows cast on the gaunt faces of the prisoners by the burning torches as they worked at night, said to resemble Dante's 'Inferno'. There is a beautiful and poignant walking trail along this section of the old rail route, as well as an excellent museum at the Hellfire Pass Interpretive Centre.

For a dose of nature, the region offers up some beautiful waterfalls - probably the most famous is at Erawan National Park. These tiered cascades have an unbelievably blue hue, forming pretty pools shaded by bamboo and liana. It is possible to enjoy a dip in some of the pools, and even have a natural fish spa from the small fish that nibble away your dead skin.

At Sai Yok National Park, you can discover teak forests, the Sai Yok Falls, as well as fascinating limestone caves with stalactites and stalagmites forming incredible shapes. This National Park is also home to some incredibly rare animals, such as the elusive Kitti's hog-nosed bat, the smallest mammal in the world.

You also have a cooking class included in Chiang Mai where you will cook up a delicious Thai lunch under the guidance of your instructor.

Meals are not included on the sleeper train; you can purchase food on board at the restaurant car, or order from the vendors who will deliver your food to your seat. You can also bring food on board if you prefer. Please note that alcohol is not sold or permitted on Thai trains. When you arrive to Ayutthaya early in the morning of Day 6, early check in is included for you to have direct access to your hotel room on arrival, and breakfast is also available at the hotel this morning.

Your two night stay at the floating raft hotel in Kanchanaburi is arranged on a half board basis (dinner, bed and breakfast).

Food & Water

It is not recommended to drink untreated water from the taps. You should take purification tablets or a filter bottle (such as a Water-To-Go bottle) to treat your water. We do not encourage the purchasing of single use plastic bottles.

Thai cuisine is a delightful stimulus for the senses, utilising to great effect the base tastes of spiciness, sourness, saltiness, sweetness and bitterness, with flavours carefully balanced in every dish. Food and eating is an institution among Thais and you will find delicious local dishes at cheap and cheerful hawker stalls everywhere you go; sampling these freshly cooked dishes is a huge part of the adventure of getting under Thailand's skin.

You will find regional variations that take influence from neighbouring states and seasonality. Tasty northern specialties to sample include 'khao soi', a dish of boiled and crispy egg noodles with pork, chicken or beef in a curried soup; 'khep moo' and 'nam phrik num' - deep fried pork crackling and a roast chilli dip, served with sticky rice ('khao niaw').

Thai curries have a variety of curry pastes as their foundation; created by pounding, mashing and grinding an array of fresh and aromatic ingredients into a thick paste. Fragrant flavours typically come from chilli, galangal, lemongrass, kaffir lime, shrimp paste, garlic and shallots.

Perhaps a lesser-known culinary delight is the Thai salad known as 'yam'. These salads come in many permutations, with noodles ('yam wun sen'), meat (beef 'yam nua' or pork 'nam tok'), seafood (squid 'yam plaa meuk') or vegetables, but tying the dishes together is a generous dash of lime juice to give the salad its distinctive tang, and a sprinkling of fresh chillies to give it heat.

There is also a vast array of colourful tropical fruits to be sampled, some bizarre-looking (such as the rambutan with its covering of soft spines, concealing sweet white flesh within its hairy-looking shell); some pungent (namely the durian, a strong-smelling large fruit with a hard spiky shell and soft creamy flesh); to the more familiar mango, watermelon and papaya. Sampling these fruits in their prime season will likely enrapture you to their delicious flavours - so much better than out-of-season imports.

Special Diets

Whilst we can cater for vegetarians, albeit sometimes with a more limited choice, we cannot always provide special diets. Due to the nature of some of the trips that we operate and the countries in which we operate them, it can be very hard (and sometimes impossible) to cater for a wide range of dietary choices and you may have to supplement your diet with food/snacks from home. If you have specific dietary requirements please do speak to our sales team and they will be able to advise you whether or not we will be able to offer your specific choice. Please note that we are unable to provide separate menus and cannot accept liability for any problems arising from special dietary requirements or intolerances.

Accommodation

For this holiday you will stay in hand-selected 3* hotels in the vibrant cities of Chiang Mai, Ayutthaya and Bangkok. All hotels offer twin/double rooms with air conditioning, and showcase their charming blend of style, character and modern amenities alongside their unparalleled service. All hotels also have swimming pools, along with bars and restaurants serving up a mix of Thai and international cuisines.

It is possible to extend your stay with additional nights in Chiang Mai or Bangkok, just speak with one of our sales team for further information.

Your holiday includes travelling on the overnight sleeper train from Chiang Mai to Ayutthaya (Day 5). Journeying on the sleeper train is a fun part of the Thai travel experience and is a great way to get around in an environmentally friendly manner. For this overnight journey, you will travel in 2nd class air-conditioned sleeper berths. These are seats that are converted into upper and lower bunks for sleeping, each with privacy curtain, pillow and blanket. You take your luggage on board with you; these are stored on racks, under the seats, or on the floor next to your seats. The air conditioning can be effective, so it would be a good idea to have a warm layer and extra socks to hand. There are basic shared washroom facilities at the end of each carriage, with both squat toilets and sit down toilets.

You will also spend two nights at a river raft resort in Kanchanaburi, floating on the River Kwai amidst the jungle and only accessible by long tail boat. Staying at this remote location makes for a wonderful experience, perfect for unwinding whilst surrounded by nature and away from the hubbub of the city. The off-grid bamboo raft houses are simple and rustic: there is no electricity or wifi. Each twin/double room has a simple ensuite private bathroom (water is not heated), along with a shared terrace to the front and a small private deck to the rear. In each room, lighting is by kerosene lamp and hand torch, and mosquito nets are provided. Hammocks and sun loungers are set up on the terraces, ideal if you wish to soak in the surroundings of the floating resort and relax with a good book. The hotel offers activities such as boat trips, kayaking or SUP on the river; off-site excursions are also available. These can all be arranged with the hotel staff. You may find that elephants owned by local villagers visit the resort - we strongly discourage any animal interactions or contact such as feeding, petting or riding elephants. Please refer to KE's Sustainability pages for more information: <https://www.keadventure.com/about/ke-sustainability>

As the raft hotel is off-grid with no electricity supply, they do not have the facility to process card payments. As such, it is a good idea to have a supply of cash with you.

Bike Hire

Bike hire for your self-guided cycling days are payable locally. You will find details of recommended bike hire companies in your self-guided travel app. We strongly recommend that you should take your own cycle helmet for the best comfort.

Baggage Allowance

For this holiday you should take one piece of luggage and a day pack for your daily essentials. Keeping your luggage limited to one piece in a soft, lockable bag such as a duffle bag would be most practical when travelling by train.

For international flights please check your baggage allowance with your airline.

Currency

The unit of currency in Thailand is the Thai Baht.

Preparing for your Holiday

The advantage of a self-guided holiday is that you decide the pace, however getting some additional exercise before coming on an active holiday would be a good idea. The walking tours in the itinerary are typically gentle and allow many opportunities for stops, other than the hike in Doi Suthep-Pui National Park (available from November to February) which is a challenging hike of around 6 hours.

The sightseeing cycle rides on this holiday are of a leisurely nature, and you are free to decide when to stop for photos and refreshment breaks. The distances cycled are short and on flat terrain, no more than around 24km in a day and typically on paved roads or small paths. We would recommend you dust off your bike and head off on a few rides before your holiday.

Climate

Thailand has a tropical climate that gives rise to three main seasons: the cool season (November to February), the hot season (March to May) and the rainy season (June to October).

The cool season from November to February is the most pleasant time to visit; temperatures can be anywhere between 29°C-32°C during the day, and with little rain. During the hot season, daytime temperatures can reach up to around 37°C in Bangkok, and it will feel more humid. You will also experience regional variations, as the uplands of the north are notably cooler and less humid. At higher altitudes, the temperatures during the day can vary between 18°C-26°C, and at night it can feel chilly.

During the rainy (monsoon) season, the rains can vary in length and intensity each year, but generally this season brings short-lived downpours in the afternoon or at night, and helps to alleviate the high temperatures and humidity. Daytime temperatures between June and October can reach an average high of 33°C.

Travel Aware

As a reputable tour operator, KE supports the British Foreign, Commonwealth and Development Office's 'Travel Aware' campaign to enable British citizens to prepare for their journeys overseas. The 'Travel Aware' website provides a single, authoritative source of advice for all kinds of travellers and we recommend that prior to travel, all KE clients visit the official UK Government website at travelaware.campaign.gov.uk and read the FCDO Travel Advice for their chosen destination. North Americans can also check out the U.S. Department of State website: www.travel.state.gov for essential travel advice and tips.

KE treat the safety and security of all clients as the most important aspect of any trip we organise. We would not run any trip that we did not consider reasonably safe. Should the FCDO advise against travel for any reason, we will contact everyone booked to travel to discuss the situation. We receive regular updates direct from the FCDO and are in constant touch with our contacts on the ground. If you have any questions about government travel advice, please call our office.

Single Use Plastic

KE do not encourage the use of single use plastic items. We are ensuring that our agents all over the world are working together to reduce the problem and educate those around them. We are leading by example in our KE office by reducing our plastic use.
